EXAMPLES OF TECHNOLOGY ABUSE

Technology abuse is a common tactic within the context of teen dating violence. Through technology, harmful partners use social media, texting, and other forms of technology to gain power and control. Technology abuse does not happen in isolation. In fact, many young people also experience psychological abuse, physical abuse, and sexual coercion. These examples are only a few examples of technology abuse. It is important to increase awareness about the dynamics of tech misuse so that teens and those that support them can be prepared to respond and empowered around tech misuse.
